Select Poetry.

We publish the following Hymn poems, by request.—Ed.

CROSSING THE RIVER.

Over the river I'm going,
Beyond where the pearly gates stand;
Over the cold icy billows
To live in a fair sunny land.
My father hath built me a mansion,
And filled it with treasures of gold;
Yes, over the river I'm going,
To where there are pleasures untold.

Over the river I'm going,
O, seek not to draw me aside;
See, for the boatmen are waiting
To ferry me over the tide.
My Saviour is there to receive me,
To shield me from suffering cold;
Yes, over the river I'm going
To where there are pleasures untold.

What is your mission, my brother?
What is your mission below?
What is your mission, my sister,
As journeying onward you go?
Our mission here—it is mercy,
Sweet charity, patience and love;
And follow the footsteps of Jesus
That leads to the mansion above.

Where do you journey, my brother?
Where do you journey, I pray?
Where do you journey, my sister?
For stormy and dark is the way.
We are journeying onward to Canaan,
Through suffering, trials and care,
And when we get safely to glory,
O! say, shall we meet you all there?

Yes, you shall meet us, my brother,
God helping our weakness below;
Bearing the Cross, we, my sister
The crown will endeavor to wear;
We'll walk thro' the vale and the shadow,
Through suffering, trials and care,
And when we get safely to Heaven,
You'll meet, yes, you'll meet us all there.

MEETING THOSE YOU LOVED.

Come all ye saints to Pisga's mountain,
Come view your home beyond the tide;
Hear too the voices of your loved ones,
What they sing on the other side.
Some are singing of bright ones of glory,
Some of dear ones who've passed on before,
For the faint heart must e'er be singing
To the faithful we love evermore.

CHORUS.—
O, the prospect is so inviting,
And no danger we fear from the tide;
Let me go to the home of the christian,
Let me stand robed in white by his side.

Faith now beholds the flowing river,
Coming from and nreath the Throne;
There, too, the Saviour reigns forever,
And He welcomes the faithful home.
For my conflicts and toils will be over,
I shall meet those who've passed on before,
For my loved ones, O, how I do miss them,
I shall pass on and meet them once more.

There endless streams are ever flowing,
There are the streams of living green;
Mansions of beauty are provided,
And the glory of saints is seen.
Would you sit on the banks of the river
With your friends you have loved, by your side?
Would you join in the songs with the angels?
Then be ready to follow your guide.

Correspondence.

Our Western Letter.

CHICAGO, July 12, 1869.

DEAR REPUBLICAN:—That's a fact; it is a long time since I wrote you a letter. I don't know why; do you? I would like to write you one now, but for want of something to say. If I were a preacher, or a politician, I might find something to say. They are always ready when occasion offers. I have seen them go off half cocked. But I haven't brains enough for a preacher, nor brass enough for a politician. Preachers, you know, ought to have brains, and politicians can't win without brass. I have seen some preachers whose brains were not the heaviest end of them; but I don't think any one ever saw a politician without brass. A preacher with brains is a good thing, if the brain be properly located. Some preachers not only have brains, but religion. Religion among preachers is a good thing—a very good thing. I wish more of them had it. Some people think that old-time sledge-hammer preachers had more religion to the square inch, than latter day ministers. I don't. I know preachers who have as much religion, and others who have as little, as "any other man" ever had. Don't you? And I have heard people say that politicians have more brass than honesty; don't know how that is. I once knew an honest politician. He died early. I am glad he did. It was his salvation. Have seen a great many politicians who should have died "early and often." But there is no fun in writing about preachers and politicians—though there are many exceedingly funny specimens of both.

I know now, how the poor devils, who lived in the days of Noah, felt, when the rains descended, and the floods came, and they were obliged to "scratch gravel" for the hills and mountains. Wasn't there; but we have had just such times here for the last forty days and forty nights. Two or three months ago it began to rain, and has been raining ever since, except at short intervals. During these intervals we had occasional showers. Lake Michigan is at high water mark, and the water, after so much rain, is of the wettest kind. Every little creek is a river now. Bridges and dams are among things that were. Country roads are navigable for lake steamers. Wagons are obsolete. Our streets are at high mud mark, and "risin." As the gentle hurricane wafts lightly through the streets, with the force of a tornado, the majestic waves of mud run mountain high, and playfully chase each other upon the sidewalk beach. As they recede, they oftimes leave upon that beach the body of "one more unfortunate."—Perhaps the remains of an innocent babe, once pure and lovely, now unsightly and dead. Poor little waif; its mother, to hide her shame, became its murderer.—Only a few days ago, in the heart of the city, a child was taken from the gutter, naked and dead. Surely, with that child, was buried the peace of mind of the mother. Doubtless its mother was a woman; for no man ever was known to give birth to a child, and then treat it in this way.

If not a child, perchance the remains of some poor cur, unknown to fame. But a few nights ago he was in his "usual good health," and awakened the echoes with his dulcet howlings. The neighbors, too, were charmed to wakefulness by the flute-like wailings of his late lamented dogship. Now, alas! he lies silent. He has knawed his last bone. His mellifluous voice is forever hushed, for he has strained his last strain; he sleeps his last sleep; he has fought his last dog-fight, no sound shall wake him to glory again. His sausage-like tail will never more wag you a glad "how d'ye do?" Never more will he jirk it suddenly between those hind legs—the dog's, not yours—when frightened. No tin kettle will ever again wave gracefully and musically from that tail. He passed into the valley of the shadow at the hands of one of his own species—a Chicago policeman. When we meet him again, we will scarcely recognize him, for he will be in our boarding-house hash, or our butcher's sausage. I don't mean the policeman will be made into sausage, but the other dog.

The crops in the West—especially in the great prairie districts of Illinois—have suffered greatly from the rain.—Thousands of acres are, to-day, under water. You look out upon a vast prairie, and it is as a vast lake; water as far as the eye reaches, and beneath it corn, and grain, and grass. In fact, in some places, the water stood such a depth that, not only the cellars, but the lower story of farm-houses were untenable; and I know instances where families were taken out on rafts, to higher ground. In some regions the crops will be almost a total failure; especially, if the rain continues. Where the prairie is more rolling, of course, matters are not so bad. Strange to say, however, the flatter the prairie, the more rolling it is just now; on some of the flattest, the waves roll, as on Lake Michigan.

I have travelled all over Illinois; have seen some of the most magnificent farming land in the world. I mean no irreverence when I say that the Maker of all the earth did a "big thing" for man, when he spread out these millions of acres of prairie lands. I have, too, seen, in Illinois, some of the best places to move from; imaginable. If I lived on them, I would not stand on the order of my going, but go at once, and quickly.

I have been much surprised to see thrifty Pennsylvania farmers give up the comfort of their country homes, and move West, into new country, where comforts seem mighty scarce, I tell you.—It is all well enough for young men, who have more energy and health than money, to come West; but, let me say to the old farmers of Pennsylvania, you of Penns valley, and Nittany valley, and Brush valley—I don't mean Bald Eagle valley, however—you who have your broad acres—all under fence—you who have your fine old-fashioned farm houses, and your noble bank barns—those big, red barns, you know—with their wide floors and capacious mows—Oh, how I long to see one; you who have your springs and spring houses, and orchards, and everything to make you comfortable, with money enough to enable you to live by the sweat of a hired man's brow—stay at home, be contented and enjoy yourselves as you ought. Stay where you are as long as you live, and when you die, let your children bury you where the shadows of the mountains will fall upon your graves. If you cannot live happily in Pennsylvania's valley's, and go to heaven from among her mountains, you would be unhappy in the Garden of Eden, and go to the devil from among her bowers.

All I have said about the rain and its muchness, was written a week ago.—Since that time the rain has ceased to fall, the skies once more are clear, and we are no longer floundering about the streets in unfathomable mud. In fact, the weather is now rather dry than otherwise, I don't like to write on dry subjects; I therefore drop the weather as I did the preachers and politics.

Since writing you last, we have had the "glorious 4th," which said glorious 4th came this year on the 5th. It is, I believe, the anniversary of some occasion of note; something that transpired some years since; something which people are determined to render as obnoxious as possible; for, on each returning "glorious 4th," they do all sorts of outlandish things, and make all sorts of outlandish and frightful noises; gather together in all sorts of uncomfortable crowds, in all sorts of uncomfortable places; drink a great deal of very poor lemonade, and a great deal more much poorer whiskey, and listen to many speeches which are poorer than the whiskey. In Chicago, on Sunday, the thousands of Germans who inhabit the city, had their beer-drinking celebration. They went out to drink beer, and I think they succeeded. Well authenticated reports to that effect were received during the day. I saw some of them next day. They looked as though they had more or less beer hid away about their persons, and I rather guess they had.

On Monday, business was suspended, but no general celebration was had. So glad.

Did you ever know a foolish woman? There is one in Chicago. Her husband refused to allow her to visit Wood's museum and theatre on the 4th—foolish man; and she, foolish woman, went straightway to a drug-store, where she procured arsenic. She gulped down the "cold poison," and lay down to die her last. Her friends found her in this horizontal position, trying, with might and main, to draw that last breath. They "pumped" her till she confessed that she had swallowed poison, and then they pumped her until she was relieved of it. Unfortunately, she did not die.

Now, my dear REPUBLICAN, pardon for writing so long a letter, won't you? and I will promise to shorten up next time.

Truly yours. EM QUAD.

The Lazy Man.

The lazy man, says the "Fat Contributor," is almost always good-natured. He never flies into a passion. He might crawl into one, if that were possible, but the idea of his flying into anything is preposterous.

Who ever heard of a lazy man breaking into a bank, where a crowbar had to be used, or drilling into a safe?—Nobody. Not that he might not covet his neighbor's goods therein contained, but the horror of handling crowbars and drills would always deter him from actually committing burglary.

He never runs away with his neighbor's wife simply on account of the horror he has of running. If he is ever known to run it is—run to seed.

He rarely lies about his neighbors, for it would be too much exertion, but he can lie about a bar-room all day.

He is of inestimable service to a billiard saloon, keeping the chairs warm and watching the game, for few would care to play where there were no spectators. The fact that he does this without pay, day in and day out, shows the usefulness of his nature. What an industrious man who considers his time worth something, would want pay for, the lazy man generally does for nothing, showing a freedom from mercenary motives that should go far to his credit.

The lazy man never gets up revolutions, insurrections or other popular excitements, and don't make a nuisance of himself by tramping around the country making incendiary speeches to promote public discontent.

In his own neighborhood he is never a busybody in other people's affairs, for the very idea of being a busy body at anything would drive him out of his head. By the way, if he ever got out of his head, you would have to drive him out, for he wouldn't have the energy to go out of his own accord.

The lazy man never ran mad. If he went crazy, it was because he couldn't go anywhere else without walking.

Lazy men don't disturb the quiet of peaceful neighbors by putting up factories, furnaces, and such abominations.

THE late Captain G.——, of Vermont, was always satisfied. He was one of the early and most successful breeders of Merino sheep in his part of the State. The captain had a large native cosset that he valued highly.

His son came in one morning and told him that the old cosset had twins.

The captain said "he was glad; she could bring up two as well as one."

Soon after the son reported one of the twins dead. He then said,

"The one left would be worth more in the fall than both."

In the afternoon the boy told his father that the other lamb was dead.

"I am glad," said he, "I can now fatten the old sheep."

The next morning the son reported the old cosset dead.

"That is just what I wanted; now I have got rid of the breed.

A GOOD story is told of a prominent hotel keeper who fell asleep while in attendance at church, on a late Sabbath evening. He slept the sleep of a good man until the moment the contribution box was passed, when he awoke, and hurriedly searching his pockets, found a dollar bill, which he deposited in the box.

Meeting the pastor of the church the next day, he informed him of the circumstances, begged his pardon for going to sleep during the service, but stated that the dollar contribution was all right—it was the usual charge of lodging in all well regulated establishments.

A NUMEROUS old man fell in with an ignorant and rather impertinent young convert, who proceeded to inform the old gentleman, in very positive terms, that he never could reach heaven unless he was born again, and added: "I have experienced that change, and now feel no anxiety."

"And you have been born again," said his companion, musingly.

"Yes, I trust I have."

"Well," said the old gentleman, eyeing him attentively, "I don't think it would hurt you to be born once more."

A TRAVELER inquired of a guide the reason why "echo" was always spoken of as "she," and was informed that it was because it always has the last word.

State Convention of School Superintendents.

[We received the following circular from Hon. J. P. Wickersham, State Superintendent of Common Schools, and publish it for the benefit of teachers and the earnest friends of education in our county.—Ed.]

DEP'T. OF COMMON SCHOOLS,
HARRISBURG, June 2, '69.

A State Convention of School Superintendents will be held in the city of Harrisburg, commencing on Tuesday, July 20th, at 2 o'clock P. M.

Free return tickets have been secured for members attending the convention, on the Pennsylvania Central Railroad, the Philadelphia and Erie Railroad, and the Northern Central Railroad. The Philadelphia and Reading Railroad will sell excursion tickets to members at the following points: Allentown, Reading, Norristown, Lebanon and Hummelstown. Superintendents desiring to attend the convention can no doubt make special arrangements for reduction of fare for themselves, on the various lateral roads throughout the State.

The charges at the Hotels in Harrisburg will be as follows: State Capitol, $2,00 Lochiel House, Bolton House, Jones House and United States Hotel, each $2,50 per day.

The following questions will come before the Convention for consideration.

1. Examinations.—Should there be any change in the character of examinations, or in the modes of conducting them?—Can we improve our mode of certificating teachers? Can our standard of estimating the qualifications of teachers be made more uniform?

2. Visitations.—Can superintendents employ their time better than in visiting schools? How can the most good be done on the occasion of a visit to a school?

3. Institutes.—When should our County Institutes be held, and how sho'd they be conducted? Can anything be substituted in cities and large towns for the County Institutes, as now conducted, which will be more to the professional advantage of the teachers?

4. Reports.—What facts is it most essential for Superintendents to report?—Are the forms for reports now in use the best that we can adopt? Have we any forms that are unnecessary, or are others needed?

5. General Interest in Education.—What can Superintendents do to induce the people to elect better school directors, or to induce them to take more interest in education?

In addition to these inquiries, which embrace the special work of the Superintendency, the opinions of the Convention will be solicited in reference to the following topics:

1. Superintendents in relation to Co. Normal Institute.
2. Superintendents in relation to State Normal Schools.
3. Defects in our school law, and remedies for them.
4. Defects in the working agencies provided by our school law

Meek on His Travels.

He wants a Re nomination—He Expresses his Opinion freely on the time-honored Custom—Let the party split—Graphic opinion of Democratic aspirants.

From various sources through which journals of the prominence and circulation of the Republican are enabled to gather matter of importance and interest to their readers, we, this week, present a decidedly racy account of a recent pilgrimage performed by our friend, P. GRAY MEEK, among the ancient Rip Van Winkles of Penns Valley. PETER G. was never in better trim, and his voice was most mellifluously sweet and persuasive. The phantom which induced PETER to undertake this pilgrimage will be fully understood as we present the following verbatum report of various conversations held with "lights" of Democracy in Penns Valley.

At Centre Hall the following colloquy occurred between SPANGLER and our journalistic traveller:

MEEK—SPANGLER, how's your best ardent?

SPANGLER—So much better as good.

M.—What good are you going to do for me in Potter tp. this fall?

S.—Vat you vant?

M.—To go to Harrisburg again.

S.—Vat, dree times! Dat is too much, MEEK, und ve ish going do sent Mr. Love to der Legislader dis fall.

M.—That's where you will make a very grave error. I don't want the nomination; but before I would see that nincompoop, and antiquated Loop fossil, BILL LOVE, get the nomination, I would sacrifice the party. He is incompetent, and has always been nosing around after office, but has always failed, from his unpopularity, and well-known hypocrisy. No; BILL LOVE must not be brought forward. Mr. SPANGLER, let's take another drink. I have assisted you in many instances, SPANGLER; appointed meetings here, etc.; and, as LOVE can't get the nomination, you can't do any better than give it to me. Your next year's subscription is O. K., Mr. SPANGLER.—Good day.

At Spring Mills, PETER found his old friend and counsellor, Judge HOSTERMAN.

MEEK—Try something, Judge?—You hold your weight well—good conscience—eh?

Any allusion to the purity of the Judge's conscience having a wonderfully mollifying effect on his judicial self, MEEK managed to overcome, at the outset, a rather firm-rooted aversion to PETER, on account of sundry differences growing out of the granting of licenses, etc. The Judge was immediately put in course of inspection, and suggested that Meyers, of Haines township, was his candidate, and that an attempt on MEEK's part to force a third nomination would result in a split.

M.—Let it split, then. I've carried the party on my back for the last five or six years, and if such mullet-headed dolts as JAKE MEYERS are to crowd me off the track, I say the sooner the party goes to h—l, the better. Besides, Judge, who ever heard of a travelling singing-teacher amounting to anything. Humph, JAKE MEYER! a sweet stick he'd make to represent Centre county at Harrisburg. He'd better attend to his me-fa-sol-la-ing. No, Judge; neither LOVE nor MEYER can possibly get the nomination: and if they want to kick against the nominations, why, let 'em.

Judge—What do you think of SIMON WOLF for Treasurer? We dutchmen are all going for him in Penns Valley.

M.—I'm with you there. Doc. DOBBINS has been hanging around me for the past month to try and get me committed to him; but, the fact is, I have been running copperheadism so strong, and the working men are becoming so disgusted with these aristocratic politicians like DOBBINS, that, in order to strengthen the ticket, and carry the dutch element with us, we must nominate such a man as WOLF. He was a good soldier, and, though I detest him for it, our chances are so slim that, with the best men only, can we expect to carry the county. Besides, DOBBINS has become a regular drinking bloat, and just as quick as we get him up in a shape for a good run, he gets on another big bum, and kicks it all over. No, DOBBINS be d—d; I'm going for WOLF for Treasurer. Take another drink, Judge! I like your Penns Valley whiskey better than BAUM'S.

Judge—Well, what do you say to LIPTON for Prothonotary?

M.—Oh, LIPTON is a good enough fellow: but, if possible, he swills more than DOBBINS, and you never can tell when he can be found in the office. I don't believe in having a county office closed for three or four days in succession. And there is CHRIS. KELLER; he wants to play Prothonotary. Now I think CHRIST is well enough off as he is, and between you and me, Judge, I don't remember of any thing CHRIS. KELLER undertook and succeeded.—He always fails. I've got a man whom I shall bring up at the right time.

Judge—Who?

M.—Honestly, Judge, my man for Prothonotary is JOHN MORAN. We can always count on JOHN; he is in the ring; and if you want a re-nomination, Judge, you can't do anything better than to tie to MORAN. He is one of the best workers we have got in the ring.

At Millheim, PETER found BILL MUSSER, who has never been satisfied with the late race of Sheriffs. After going over with the other aspirants, MUSSER pitched into the entire list of would be sheriffs, and 'didn't see why Penn township wasn't entitled to some consideration,"

MEEK—I go for TOM. MCCOY or DICK CONLEY. They would, either of them, make the best sheriff we could find.

MUSSER—Why, CONLEY has had it.

MEEK—The same arrangement holds true as to myself: but the party must have strong men, and MCCOY or CONLEY, either, are the strongest men we could put up.

MUS.—What objection have you to me?

MEEK—The fact is, MUSSER, your reputation, of late, has been of such a character that it would hurt the ticket. Selling whiskey against the law, and a too great familiarity with jail rules, are not deemed the best recommendations for officials, you know.

Whether MUSSER "knew," or not, we cannot say; but PETER'S visit to Millheim was not of the most flattering character.

MEEK—Oh, here, MUSSER: on parting, a word of advice. I can't come over here again before the convention, as it would occasion too much talk. and HUTCHISON and BROWN are following me up a little too close, of late, for comfort, and might cut my corners, so I'll tell you now to let JOE WILSON alone. He is most cussed disagreeable—has always been a standing candidate; and my word for it, if nominated for treasurer, would come out of Benner tp. 50 votes behind the regular Democratic ticket. We are going to fool along with GRIF. DAVIS until the convention meets, so as to hold the few working men he may influence.—He couldn't hurt us any, though, if he did kick against the ticket. Old Capt. JOHN MORRISON will want to go on as Recorder; but we want somebody who can, at least, write his name; and the Capt. was exceedingly unfortunate in his youth in not getting to school.—It would be a great shame to put in MORRISON, who never could make a decent living. A good many of our followers damn the SHUGERTS, and say that they have got rich off the party, and are now stuck-up aristocrats, and that it won't do to run them any more; but, nevertheless, I will do my level best for SAM. SHUGERT for Recorder, because he was ousted from his seat in the Senate by the damned radicals, and we ought to give him an office to spite them, if for no other reason. I tell you, BILL, we must stick to the SHUGERTS, for they have money, and influence, and are not like your Penns Valley Democrats, who stick to the ticket under all circumstances; but they will split, fight and cut the ticket if it does not suit them. They must be conciliated.

GEPHART must be kept in as Register and Clerk. He belongs to your township—is a radical copperhead, just our style of a Democrat, BILL; and, what is best of all, he will, if necessary, come down with the stamps, handsomely. We don't want any more office-hunting beggars like MORRISON, and some others; but we do want men who will shell out freely, and help elect the ticket.

P. W. BARNHART desires that I should help him to the nomination for Sheriff: but he has no force of character, and was never known to spend a cent for the party. I tell you, BILL, I don't take any stock in these dead-beets. I have too many of them on my list already. BARNHART has a lot of relations: but he hasn't one iota of influence over them; and couldn't carry one of them out of the party if he should try. SMITH BARNHART tried that once, but failed most beautifully. I tell you honestly, BILL, we need not care for the BARNHARTS, for they are like spaniels, the more you whip them, the better they like you.

MUS.—Why, MEEK, you seem to be down on most everypody; und dem vat you go fur, I tot vas plait ouse.

MEEK—Now, BILL, don't you be frightened; just listen to me, I own the party organ; I can build up or tear down just who I please. You play sharp, BILL; if you want anything, tie to me. But I am staying too long. I must be going. Come, let us take another drink. I like your whiskey better than KREAMERS; and, moreover, we intend to hold meetings here, and we will make your house our headquarters. Good bye MUSSER; I must go; I must get home; I want to go to the Harrisburg convention: I fear that PACKER will be our nominee, and I prefer CASS.

MUS.—Vell, if you must go, MEEK, come in and take another drink first; and when you get to Harrisburg, do all you can to lick de d—d Radicals.

MEEK—BILL, I've got about enough; but I'll take one more. Here's luck, BILL; good bye, MUSSER; good bye, GRAY. Well, well, well.

Packer.

Asa Packer, a smart Connecticut boy of old-fashioned Yankee stock, left his native State when 17 years old, with some $10 in money and clothing of about equal value, and brought up in Susquehanna County, North Pa. where he apprenticed himself to learn the trade of carpenter and joiner, which he followed for some years thereafter; marrying in due season, and buying a tract of wild land, which he proceeded to clear and till. At length, he pulled up stakes and struck for Mauch Chunk, the heart of the Lehigh Coal region, whence he ran a coal-boat to Phil'a., then started a store, and soon engaged extensively in buying coal lands, building railroad, &c., &c., whereby he grew rapidly and enormously rich. He is now worth at least Twenty Millions of Dollars, and we believe he came honestly by them. Though we do not belong to his thrifty class, we appreciate them as useful men, and believe the world is better for their existence.

And yet we don't like the idea of making a Governor out of one whose chief distinction is the ownership of Twenty Millions of Dollars. Mr. Packer is a citizen of respectable abilities and good character; yet there is no one acquainted with him who can honestly say that, if the net result of his past exertions had been $20,000 instead of $20,000,000, he would now be a candidate for Governor of Pa. He is nominated because of his great wealth, and with the expectation that he will devote a part of it to greasing the wheels of the Democrrtic machine.

This is at once baleful and perilous. Since we have no aristocracy by blood or patent, money is rapidly becoming the fountain not only of social distinction, but of political honor. Whoever will look intelligently about him will be surprised to note how many are filling stations to which their wealth alone has elevated them. Especially sweet on those who, beginning penniless, have made their piles, we are in danger of confounding wealth with worth, and fancying that a millioniare must of course be eminently wise and able, when in fact the talent which rapidly amasses wealth is of a low order, and often dissociated from the higher qualities indispensable in the statesman or legislator. It is high time that keener perceptions had established a better standard of fitness for exalted public trusts.—N. Y. Trib.

Platform.

Adopted by the State Republican Convention on June 23, 1869, at Philadelphia.

Resolved, That we rejoice in the glorious national victory of 1868, which is bringing peace, happiness and prosperity to us as a nation.

Resolved, That we wholly approve of the principles and policy of the Administration of General Grant, and we heartily endorse every sentiment contained in his inaugural address, and especially do hereby ratify and approve the late amendment proposed by Congress to the Constitution of the United States, and known as the fifteenth amendment.

Resolved, That we have confidence that the General Administration will wisely and firmly protect the interests and dignity of the nation in respect to our just claims against Great Britain, and that we endorse the action of the Senate in rejection of the Johnson-Clarendom treaty, known as the Alabama claims.

Resolved, That we heartily sympathize with the struggling peoples of all nations in their efforts to attain universal freedom and the invaluable rights of man.

Resolved, That we confidently endorse the Administration of General John W. Geary as wise, economical and honest, and that it deserves, as it has received, the approval of the people of Penn'a, and we especially commend his uniform efforts to restrain the evils of special legislation.

Resolved, That in Hon. Henry W. Williams, our candidate for the Supreme Court, we present a learned, pure, and patriotic jurist, who will adorn the high position to which we purpose to elect him.

Resolved, That we reiterate and affirm our adherence to the doctrine of protection, as proclaimed in the ninth resolution of the platform adopted at the State Convention of March 7, 1866.

Resolved, That we endorse the ticket this day nominated, and pledge to it our hearty and cordial support.

THE Hartford Post says of the Republican nominee for Governor of Pennsylvania: "Certainly no more popular candidate for Governor could be chosen than Governor Geary. His reputation throughout the country is high and needs no comment."

The Republicans promised to remember and reward the Nation's soldiers, and they are doing it. Gen. Chamberlain has been renominated for Governor of Maine; Gen. Geary of Pennsylvania; and Gen. Hayes, of Ohio.

A Conscientious Democrat.

The Jersey shore Vidette, a spicy and excellent paper, gives the following account of a Seymourite in Lycoming Co, Pa:

A good story comes to us of an honest Democrat in Lycoming County, which for the credit of that party we put in print. The Democrat in question had taken a contract to carry the mails over one of the new mail routes in the county, which he found upon reflection he had taken at too low a price and was anxious to get rid of his bargain. In his dilemma he called on our friend Capt. Brown for advice how to proceed to avoid the execution of his contract. Capt. B asked him if he could take the oath that he had never given aid and comfort to the rebels. Our Democratic friend said that he did not believe he could take that oath. He had never bore arms against the government, but he had voted for Seymour and Blair, and believed when he did that he was giving aid and comfort to the rebels. The Captain told him that if such was the case he did not see how he could take the oath. To which he replied that his conscience would not permit him to do so. He has not entered upon his duties."

THE Supreme court recently decided the Registration Act Constitutional. This will deprive Coffee pot, Wallace, and his fraudulent Co-workers of thirty thousand votes in Pennsylvania. Wallace, like Othello, will now find "his occupation gone." Let it go to the demnition bow-wows.

THE Opposition to the Republicans in Virginia is named by those who belong to it, "the Walker Party." No such thing as a "Democratic party" has been heard of, in that State.—Where, oh! where, is the good old Moses?

ANDREW JOHNSON hates Ulysses Grant as he hates no other man. But if A. J. would only reflect that, putting A. J. and U. G. together, they spell "A Jug," we are quite sure he would take more kindly to his successor.

SOME how or other the great reduction in the public debt since the inauguration of the present administration does not appear to find favor in the eyes of several leading Democratic papers. Sorry everybody cannot be pleased.

THE Democratic Convention which met in Harrisburg, on the 14th inst., nominated for Governor, ASA PACKER: for the Supreme Judgship, CYRUS L. PERSHING.

BELLEFONTE ACADEMY.

A SELECT SCHOOL FOR YOUNG LADIES AND GENTLEMEN.

Next Session opens on

WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER FIRST,

with every facility for the education of youth in all the studies which constitute a liberal and polite education.

Special attention is given to Music and Drawing. Vocal Music is made a regular branch in the course of study, and is taught to all pupils without extra charge.

The Principal is assisted by an ample corps of tried and capable teachers, the united aim being to insure the moral culture, and general refinement, as well as the intellectual improvement of the pupils. Each scholar has a due share of individual attention.

Parents who wish to place their children where there will be no necessity for change till they have completed their education, are invited to visit this School.

Parents who wish to have their daughters board out of the Institution, can find pleasant homes, and at reasonable rates in the town. For further particulars,

Address, Rev. J. P. HUGHES,

AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE OF PENNSYLVANIA.

HARVEST RECEPTION.

The next Fall Session of this Institution will commence on Monday, the 30th day of August, and continue sixteen weeks. Students to report at the College the preceding Thursday. The charge for the session is $70, including Instruction, Boarding, Washing and Fuel. Lights, Furniture and Books to be provided by the Student.

The Spring Term of 24 weeks, will close on the 29th of the present month. Though the number of students has been small, the experiment of combining Study with Work, has been successful; this success being due as much to the absence of the confusion caused by a crowd of new and undrilled students at the opening, as to the energy and cheerful co-operation of the small number on the roll. The aid has been so heaity and effective, that this public mode is gladly embraced to express thanks for the support thus afforded. With light working details, full spring crops have been put into the ground, the garden has been attended to, much ornamental planting done, and some other improvements effected. At equal pace, the studies and duties of the College proper have been carried on; and now, at the close of the term, the pleasant conviction is experienced, that mind and body can both be healthfully and usefully trained sound moral habits impressed, and young men of practical science, as well as sound scholarship in general literature, sent forth to the work of life.

This institution makes no parade of the long list of 'ologies, 'onomies and 'ographies which grace some catalogue; neither does it boast of any incredible number of professors actual, expected, special, honorary and occasional, but with a sufficient number of competent instructors, all of whom are capable in their respective departments, and citizens of the State, it undertakes to give sound instruction in every branch of literature, science and practical art pertaining to its class, which any father may desire for his son, and which that son may come prepared to receive. Beyond this no promise is made.—This shall be fulfilled.

Not many citizens of the State know of the existence of this Institution, and very few are aware of its large capacity and adaptedness to meet the great educational want of the day—that of imparting thoro' knowledge in all the useful branches, practically as well as theoretically. The Trustees and officers, feeling the effect of this general want of information and appreciation, have decided to invite and even challenge inspection of the institution on the part of the public. Accordingly,

A HARVEST RECEPTION will be held at the College the last week of the present term, from Monday the 26th till Saturday the 31st of July. During that time the building and grounds will be open to visitors who may desire to know the nature and condition of the Institution, and inform themselves as to its future prospects. Especially will old graduates, the parents of present students, persons desirous of sending students the next term, and editors of papers, be welcome.—Plain fare and clean beds will be provided without charge, and every effort made to render the visit agreeable.

Trains leave Tyrone, on the Penna. R. R., daily, at 9 a. m., and Lock Haven, on the Phil'a. and Erie R. R. about the same hour, for Bellefonte by the Bald Eagle Valley R. R., where they arrive in time for the daily stage to the College.

MUSIC, DRAWING AND PAINTING SCHOOL.

MRS. M. S. DUNHAM

having been a successful teacher of Vocal and Instrumental Music—Piano, Melodian, Organ and thorough Bass—Painting and Drawing, for the last twelve years, is now prepared to admit a few more scholars to her school, upon reasonable terms.

Having recently received a splendid new Piano, of a celebrated Boston manufacture, which, pupils not having instruments of their own to practice on, can have the use of.

Thankful for the liberal patronage heretofore received, she hopes to merit a continuance of the same. Rooms up one flight of stairs, over Centre Co. Banking House, on Allegheny street. Also, agent for all kinds of good Musical Instruments. Address, or call on her at her rooms, at Bellefonte, Pa.

TIMBER LEAVE FOR SALE.

Sealed Proposals for the cutting of the Hemlock timber on the Boudinot lands, held in trust by the city of Philadelphia, situated on the southeast side of the Susquehanna River, in Burnside twp. Centre county, containing about thirteen thousand acres, will be received by the Superintendent of Trusts of the city of Philadelphia, at his office in Wills Hospital, on the south side of Logan Square, until the 22nd day of September next, and will be opened by him at 3 o'clock in the afternoon of that day, in the Chamber of Common Councils of the said city, in the presence of the Committee on Trusts and Fire Department and of such bidders as may attend; all bids to be addressed to Charles Oat, Superintendent of Trusts, and to be endorsed: "Proposals for cutting the Hemlock timber on the Boudinot Lands." Such proposals are to specify the duration of the lease asked for, not exceeding five years, and the price offered per thousand square feet, board measure, for saw logs; they must also be accompanied by the names of two responsible sureties, residents of Philadelphia would be preferred, who are willing to give bonds in the amount of five thousand dollars, for the faithful performance of the contract. The timber leave will embrace only the Hemlock as shall exceed twelve inches in diameter at the butt.—The lessee will be required to purchase the right of road way, and the use of any and all structures which have been made or built by the present lessees. The cutting and measuring of the Hemlock timber to be under the supervision of an agent appointed by the city; the timber to be cut clear; that is, after commencing on a tract, all the Hemlock timber thereon must be cut before proceeding to another, the measuring to be done on the bank, and the price secured before launching the timber. The city of Philadelphia reserves the right to enter upon the lands at all times, by its agents, for the purpose of examining into the performance of the conditions of the lease, or for any other purpose whatever; and also the right to explore, dig or mine or coal, and to erect all kind of structures, and to construct all roads, railroads, and bridges neccessary for mining purposes.

The city also reserves the right, absolutely, to reject any or all bids, for inadequacy of price, insufficiency of security, or other reasons.

By order of the Councils of the city of Philadelphia. CHARLES OAT, jy21'69 tf Sup't. of Trusts.

JOB WORK.—Posters, Circulars, Bill Heads, Cards, Paper Books, Job Work of all kinds, neatly executed at the REPUBLICAN OFFICE, at reasonable rates.

READ.—The attention of our readers and friends is invited to the two-and-a-half columns of new advertisements.

SAVE MONEY.—If you want posters, circulars, bill heads, cards, paper-books, first-class job work, plain or fancy, call at the REPUBLICAN office. All work done at Philadelphia prices.

FARM FOR SALE.—Persons desiring to purchase a first rate farm, should call at, once, at the REPUBLICAN office, or upon Bond Valentine, Esq. This farm contains about 195 acres, forty acres of which are meadow. The buildings—house, barn and out-buildings—are all the very best. It is located about 1½ miles from Bellefonte. There is a great bargain in this farm. Farmers desiring a first class farm, should call and see it. Terms easy.

THAT SLANDER.—It does seem that P. G. Meek, like the carrion crow, finds no pleasure, only when reveling in corruption, or in seeking to destroy the character of men better and purer than himself. We had hoped that the recent pungent rebuke, administered to him in the "Dickinson Seminary Libel Suit," would have taught him a little prudence and common sense, but it appears that our hope was without foundation, and we have come to the conclusion that Shakespear was right when he said

"It is hard to make a silk purse out of a sow's lug."

Meek feasts on filth, and it matters not how much he is advised by his friends, or washed and gilded by Democratic courts and juries, true to his instincts, he will return again to his wallowing in the mire. Take from the Watchman its vulgar abuse of good men; its blackguard "ink-slings;" its continued howling against the Republicans, and in favor of his Southern-secession rebel-democratic-brethren, and there is nothing left. No argument; no dignity; no merit; no truth. In our opinion, Meek is the man, or the prototype of the man, spoken of in the Scriptures, whose conscience was seared, whose heart was hardened, and who was given over to believe a lie and be damned.

Witness the following, which we clip from the Watchman of the 25th of June:

"We are informed that when that poor, "unfortunate man, Clearwater, was "crushed to death by the cars at Milesburg, a few days ago, some of the Ra"dical humanitarians in that village "were disposed to put him into the "ground without coffin or ceremony.— "But three men, and, we believe, all "Democrats, namely: Mike McLaughlin, Geo. Ronian and a Mr. Cole, re"fused to see him thus consigned to the "earth, and so purchased a neat coffin "for him, costing sixteen dollars, with "a shroud in which to enwrap the mu"tilated corpse, and had him decently "buried in the cemetery.

* * * * *

"We are also informed that a hotel "keeper, not a thousand miles from the "depot at Milesburg, charged Mr. Clear"water's friends $10 50 for keeping the "poor body in his cellar over night.— "We do not know whether the report is "true, and hope it is not; [base slanderer; contemptible hypocrite; why publish what you do not know to be true?—Ed.] "but such infamous avarice deserves re"buke; and, if Mr. Snyder is really "guilty of such a small and inhuman "act, his hotel ought to be avoided like "a pestilence."

Meek, "thou art the man," truly, to "believe alie," and publish it to the world, with a hope of injuring innocent men; but you will yet learn, to your shame, perhaps sorrow, that such conduct will terminate in your own condemnation, that "curses, like chickens, come home to roost."

The Democratic party must be dead, indeed; aye, rotten, putrified, stinking, when it requires its advocates to resort to wholesale lying to bolster it up, or to breathe a little of the breath of life into its putrid carcass.

To be brief, the fact is, the whole article is a fabrication—a contemptible falsehood—a plain, blunt lie, and Meek knew it at the time, else why insert his doubts, and hopes that it were not true? The coffin, purporting to have been bo't by the three persons named in that article, was purchased by the Overseer of the poor—Jacob C. Walker—a good Republican, and the persons named in Meek's article will acknowledge the fact.

A great wrong has been done Mr. Snyder by this libelous article. The facts in regard to him are as follows:—His bill was $10 50, but for what? Why the persons who attended to laying out the corpse, and setting up at night, were boarded by Mr. Snyder to the amount of thirteen meals; then the light, the cleaning of his hall, and the room and carpet, all saturated with blood, and yet his charge only $10 50. There is not a christian, a "humanitarian," or even a landlord in Centre county who will not say that Mr. Snyder's bill was most reasonable. But, small as it was, Mr. Snyder did not receive it. When the friends of Mr. Clearwater offered him a portion of it, Mr. Snyder said: No, keep it, put more to it, and purchase tombstones for the unfortunate man. The corpse lay in a good and well furnished room, and not in the cellar, as represented. We cannot understand why Meek would thus libel Mr. Snyder. It may be that Snyder has come to his senses, and resolved to forsake the Democratic party. We can explain it in no other way. We hope our surmise is true. Mr. Snyder is too honest, and too decent a man, to remain in such a corrupt, disloyal and secession organization as the Democratic party has proven itself to be. We ask Mr. Snyder and his friends to go to work in the cause of freedom and equal rights for all, and against the Democratic party, Meek and his corrupt "ring." Go to work and help us to Packer away this fall where her foulstench will never more offend the nostrils of honest men.

BARGAINS.—For good bargains—for cheap groceries, dried fruit, canned fruit, early potatoes, and other vegetables, call at the excellent Grocery kept by Capt. M. Runkle, on Allegheny street.

GOOD AGAIN.—We learn that Mr. Thos. Beaver, of Danville, who recently donated $25,000 to Lafayette College, has donated a similar amount to Dickinson College, at Carlisle, for the purpose of endowing a professorship. How much happier he must be in consequence of his liberal spirit, than amassing wealth like many who do so for—they know not what.

INSTITUTE.—By reference to the advertising columns of the REPUBLICAN, it will be seen that the "Nittany Valley Institute," located at Jacksonville, Centre county, Pa., commences its 6th term on the 3d day of August next. The Principal, Mr. Samuel M. Otto, is highly educated, and a gentleman in every sense of the word. We are pleased to see our citizens take so much interest in the education of their children, and the building up of first-class schools.

MUSIC, PAINTING AND DRAWING SCHOOL.—Persons desiring a thorough musical education in all its branches, we would direct their attention to the advertisement of Mrs. M S. Dunham, in to-day's paper. She has been a successful teacher for a number of years, and is so well and favorably known in this community, and portion of the State, that it would be superfluous on our part to add to her already justly acquired reputation. In painting and drawing, she has few, if any superiors.

MURDER.—Quite an excitement was created last Tuesday, near Eagleville, with "Old dog Nero." His owner, becoming tired of him, undertook to take his life. He, therefore, loaded his old musket with shot, took aim, closed his eyes, and fired. The load lodged in the under part of the dog's head. Thinking Liberty township was a rather hot place, he immediately absconded for Beech Creek, where he received another load in his posterior. Two boys then pursued him with the intention of killing him, but as soon as they got out of sight, they began to shoot mark, and let the dog go. A few minutes afterwards the dog was seen crossing the Beech Creek bridge, his body all shattered with shot, and covered with blood. We have not heard of the dog since, but presume he crawled into some secluded spot and died.

PENNSVALLEY RAILROAD.—The prospects for the speedy completion of the Lewisburg & Spruce Creek Railroad, are very bright. We clip the following from the Lewisburg Chronicle:

At the recent election in Phil's, the following officers were chosen to manage the affairs of the Lewisburg, Centre & Spruce Creek Railroad, for the current year:

President—George F. Miller.

Directors—Eli Slifer, John Ulrich, John Walls, J V. Elwell, Wm S. Howard, Edmund Smith, James P. Coburn, R H Duncan, Washington Butcher, B. Butler, T. T. Firth, Joseph Lesley.

Secretary and Treasurer—Jos Lesley.

The proposition made by the people along the route to secure the right of way and grade the road, provided the Pa. Railroad Co. would rail, stock and operate it, was accepted by that corporation.

An order was issued by the Superintendent to commence running on the branch, on Friday the 23d inst. Unless some unforseen hindrance occurs, we may therefore expect the iron horse one week from to-day.

A GRAND AND MERITED SUCCESS.—We learn that so great has become the demand for Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy of late, that instead of grinding and preparing the ingredients which enter into its composition, in a common druggist's mortar, the proprietor has had to resort to a large set of French Bur Mill Stones, which are run by water power. When it is considered that it is but a short time since the remedy was discovered and put on sale, this may truly be said to entirely eclipse the success which has met the remedies of Ayer, Janes, Moffat Townsend, and the whole fraternity of proprietary medicine venders. Where there is such success, there must be some merit. It is for sale in almost every drugstore in the land, and is also sold largely and sent through the mail at sixty cents per package.—Buffalo Evening Post.

BEECH CREEK, July 17, 1869.

MESSRS. EDITORS:—The vicinities of Eagleville and Beech Creek were visited, on last Wednesday evening, about 6 o'clock, by one of the most terrible thunder and rain storms ever witnessed by the oldest inhabitants. The afternoon of Wednesday had been very warm and sultry, with occasional showers, till ab't 5 o'clock in the evening, when a very heavy thunder cloud rose in the Northwest, and came some distance towards the zenith, when it was met by a strong south current of air, driving a heavy cloud, somewhat lower than the former, and meeting just south of the Allegheny mountains, in Beech Creek township.—The meeting of the clouds produced a sound like a large waterfall. Shortly the rain began to fall in such torrents, in the vicinity of Samuel Hall's farm, that Canoe and Sugar runs became so swollen that every bridge, for two miles along these runs, were swept away. The storm then past in an easterly direction, down the north side of Bald Eagle Valley, through the front ridges, toward Lock Haven. All the runs from Beech Creek to Lock Haven were so swollen that all the bridges and fences were swept away, and the Bald Eagle canal seriously damaged at Beech Creek.—Beech creek rose about four feet in half an hour. Portions of the streets were impassable, being over-flooded by large currents of water. Cellars were filled, side walks torn away, and pigs and chickens swept down with the irresistable flood. The farmers suffered still more. Spring-houses, fences, grain and hay were destroyed in large quantities. The storm was accompanied with the most terrific thunder and lightening ever known in this vicinity.

County Correspondence.

CENTRE HALL, July 19, '69.

How pleasant it is to know that we exist. We went down for the third time, or, rather, the Third was the time we went down to the great international carnival on the pastoral grounds of the Sam-Andy-Johnson-Foster place. Every thing there was deliciously mellowed and softened with cologne de conservatism"—revenue stamp attached—and all went merry as a country marriage anvil.—Johnson Sam is, without doubt, the "Mildest mannered man,

That ever scuttled ship, or cut a throat," and, like a true disciple of the illustrious Tennessee Moses, had laid the bullrushes of his grove with tangled festoons of hero-crowning laurel, and make peace honeysuckles.

The fatigue of the week was excessive. One of us (committee) was most divine-ly attired in rich garments, set off with a cone-like silk hat, all ordered up, irrespective of cost, from the metropolotin centre of Aaronsburg, and which was duly submitted for inspection, one evening, to an admiring bevy of croqueters. The remaining members of the committee completed their outfits with sundry stockings, handkerchiefs, ribbons, etc., at the command of their sisters and mothers. At ten o'clock, a. m., to be precise, the elegant cavalcade "glode" from the Hall with streamers spanking, and with due dignity, took possession of the aforesaid bullrushes. The sight was entrancing. With the exhilerating aroma of a score of uncleaned horses, unwashed milkmaids and cabbage pies, the air seemed freighted with the intoxicating smell of island spices. It smelt bully. Almost immediately, the various delegations arrived, and deposited their precious cargoes upon the stumps and hay, arranged per order. A few—not more than two dozen—mistook the invitation for a raising bee; and, together with some two dozen others who came attired for a sweltering siege at haying, beautifully illustrated the charming simplicity with which the children of America can attire themselves. After prayer had been dispensed with, the dancers were ordered up, and those of us who couldn't stride the two feet-apart-planks, formed, in true Indian style, about the merry trippers, and speculated on the elasticity and lengthening powers of legs, short, and otherwise. It was a glorious sight—rendered doubly attractive, from the fact that the platform was some four feet above the group of delighted spectators. At two o'clock and eight minutes we devoured our gingerbread and collected the fares. As two of the committee had performed most of the work, the collection was retained by them—an act rendered easy, as they monopolized the selling of tickets. It was designed, on re assembling, to listen to the reading of the Constitution of the United States, by Fred. Kurtz, Esq., of the Reporter, and a characteristic speech from your conservative townsman, Orvis. As Kurtz had declined to publish further contributions from the army of grasshopper writers who had been afflicting him for several weeks, on picnic matters, he was overslaughed by the committee, although arrayed in lovely garb, and holding an abridged copy of the Constitution in his hands. Orvis had his speech written out and carefully revised; but, discovering the REPUBLICAN reporter, with note book in his hand, audibly cussing reporters in general, and the REPUBLICAN reporter in particular, "allowed he'd save it for the fall campaign. Kurtz and Orvis, each, were decidedly emphatic in expressing their opinions that the picnic was too conservative, and lacked that zest and striking peculiarities incident to full-blooded Democratic gatherings.

In the evening—the gingerbread having given out—a few of the ladies who demanded something to eat, were provided for by the enterprising Spangler, who exceeded all previous efforts in doing his guests complete and bountiful justice.

Truth compels us to admit that one of our ladies preferred walking home, as the buggy became so sick as to make it an impossible thing for her escort to ride therein. Several others, including, sympathetically, a member or two of the committee became very sick during the evening, and threw up their—gingerbread. Candidly, the picnic was a very flattering success, numbering near one hundred couples, and, with the peculiarities noted, passed along with commendable harmony.

A large party of patriotic pleasure seekers from the Glades—every man and woman a boon Republican—secured a couple of Old Fort meals, and you have heretofore expressed your admiration of Porter's excellence in the line of edibles. A fourteen-couple delegation from Boalsburg also made merry at the resonant Old Fort, and departed with light hearts and lighter purses.

Allow me to express my admiration of the highly "consistent" and Astor-like manner in which the Milroy House—W. R. Bell, Proprietor—is conducted. A tarry with Bell is decidedly refreshing, and the traveller leaves his hospitable roof with better thoughts of landlords in general, and Bell in particular.

MCCRACKEN.

BELLEFONTE ACADEMY.—Next term opens on Wednesday, Sept, 1, next.—The buildings are being enlarged, renovated and pleasantly furnished. The services of an accomplished and successful lady teacher have been secured. Improvements have been made in the plan and course of instruction, and no pains will be spared which are necessary to insure the moral culture, general refinement and intellectual improvement of the students. See advertisement of this Institution in another column.

Catalogues containing full particulars can be obtained, either at this office, or from the Principal.

ELI MCNITT, 93 years old, lives on Lycoming creek, Tioga county, at Carpenter's Station. He has five sons, aged from 57 to 66. The united ages of father sons and two nephews present at a late family meeting, was 547 years.

WE learn from the Jersey Shore Vidette and Lock Haven daily Quid Nunc, that our friend, Gen. Gregg, has returned from Washington city. We would be glad to see the General in our sanctum. He acted as Agent for the REPUBLICAN last winter and spring, but his authority has been revoked. He is not Agent for the REPUBLICAN at present.

SHERIFF SALE.—The Bellefonte National Office was sold by Sheriff D. Z. Kline, on Monday, the 19th inst., and purchased by Edmund Blanchard, Gen. Beaver, and others, for $3,100. We understand that these men have employed the Messrs Kinsloe, under the supervision of Col. Shortlidge, to run the machine. We have not space for full particulars.

LUMBERMEN, ATTENTION! We wo'd call the attention of lumberman, to an advertisment, in another column of the Republican, in relation to valuable timber lands for lease. This is one of the most desirable timber properties now in the market. The roads for getting out the lumber are all made, and being situated on the banks of the Susquehanna river, it is worthy the attention of those desiring to engage in the lumber business. The terms of the lease are easy, and whoever may be the successful bidder for this timber, will realize a large profit. See advertisement.

PATENT DRY HOUSE.—W. B. Savage, dealer in stoves, tinware, &c., Allegheny street, Bellefonte, Pa., has been appointed Agent for L. A. Oellig's Patent Dry House. Every fruit grower in the county should have a "dry house." The Oellig patent is, in our humble opinion, just the one they should have. It only costs $20, and is the most complete thing of its kind we have ever seen. Indeed, we never saw anything like it. It does, of a truth, surpass any other dry-house ever brought before the public. Persons wishing to examine before purchasing, should call at the store of Mr. Savage.

The Marsh Harvester.

The time for hard work in Harvest has passed—No more hard work for Poor old Ned—The most complete labor-saving Reaper ever invented.

"Oh! Brown; the time for hard work in harvest has passed away forever. It is no longer as it was when you and I were boys!" This was the ejaculation of Robert Valentine, to us, on last Saturday, as we entered his field, on the "Old Furnace farm" where the Marsh Harvester was at work. And it was working most beautifully and symmetrically. Every thing was right. It made very little noise; cut a swath five feet wide, did it well and scarcely dropp'd a head. It turned the corners easier, cut smoother, and scatterd less than any other Reaper, the operation of which, we have ever witnessed. We realized the force of Mr. Valentine's exclamation when we saw two men riding on the reaper, binding the grain as fast as it was laid on the table, doing the work of five. Surely the days for hard work are over, and every farmer in the county should, at least, desire to see this great reaper at work before purchasing any, or either, of the old inventions. It makes a man perfectly enthusiastic to see it work.

We understand that Mr. Valentine is going, with his Reaper, on Friday next, to the Old Fort, or someplace in that neighborhood, to show the people of Pennsvalley what a grand success it is.

COMPLETION OF THE PACIFIC RAILROAD.

GREAT RUSH TO STERNBERG'S.

Sung to the Tune of Yankee Doodle.

The Great Pacific Railroad's laid,
From ocean unto ocean,
And now comple connection's made,—
An enterprising notion.

The mighty work at last is done,
So speedily and brisk, oh!
And now in ten days we can run
From here to San Francisco.

No more we take the ancient route,
The stage, a horrid slow thing;
It banged the passengers about,
And wore out all their clothing.

CHORUS, for the end of each verse:

The Great Pacific Railroad's laid,
From ocean unto ocean,
And we buy clothes from A. STERNBERG
A most delightful notion.

Through passengers by the Pacific Railroad will call at the store of A. Sternberg, before starting, and provide themselves with a complete outfit of the elegant and substantial Spring and Summer Clothing, the very best assortment of which will always be found at A. Sternberg's Store.

People who travel by other routes, and all so people who, instead of traveling by any route at all, prefer to stay at home, can find the most superior and seasonable garments, for every occasion, of every variety, and at the lowest prices.

Do not fail to call and examine our stock before purchasing elsewhere; if you do not, we are sure you will be sorry that you did not. Our goods are put down to the lowest figure. We sell whole suits, according to quality,

WEDNESDAY MORNING July 21, '69,

The Laws Relating to Strays.

We have been requested to print the general laws of the State relating to strays and to cattle running at large in the highways. We will endeaver to give a synopsis of all the laws now in force on this subject. The law provides that, if any person shall discover stray cattle, horse or sheep or mules on his premises (improved and enclosed lands) it is lawful for the owner of the land to take them up, and he must give notice to the owner of such strays, if he can readily be found. If the owner is not conveniently found the person who has taken up the stray must give to the town clerk a written description of the stray, stating color, age, marks, &c., as near as may be. If he neglects to give such notice, he is liable to a fine of $5. The town clerk must make an entry, of this description on a book kept for that purpose and for neglecting to do so he is liable to a fine of $5. For making the entry, the clerk is entitled to receive, for each head of the horse kind, 50 cents; for each head of cattle 25 cents; for each sheep 6 cents, to be paid by the person taking up the strays, who may retain the strays in his possession until all fees and charges are paid, including six cents per mile travel from the residence of the person taking up the strays, to the office of the town clerk, and all reasonable charges for keeping the strays.

If the owner refuses to pay the fees and charges, either party may apply to a justice of the peace who will appoint three disinterested freeholders to assess the damages done by the strays, having due regard to the sufficiency of the fences of the enclosure, into which the strays had entered. If the sum awarded shall not exceed that demanded by the keeper of the strays, or tendered by the owner, the justice must give judgment for the amount so charged or tendered; but if the award be more than was tendered by the owner, he must give judgment accordingly.

If no owner can be found it is the duty of the person taking the strays, to give notice within six days after such taking up, to three disinterested freeholders, who must act and appraise the damage and file the same, under oath or affirmation, with a Justice of the Peace, who, if the owner is found, and refuses to pay the damages appraised and reasonable charges for keeping, will give judgment against said owner for the amount unless it be beyond the jurisdiction of a justice. In that case it may be sued for in a court of competent jurisdiction. If no owner appears within thirty days, the person taking up the estrays must advertise the strays in at least one newspaper in the county if any there be, or if not, by written or printed notices in six or more public places.

If no owner shall appear within ninety days after the publication of such advertisement, the person holding the strays must make application to a justice of the peace who will issue his warrant for the sale of such strays at public auction. Notice of such sale must be published ten days or more in at least three public places in the township.— Returns of the sale must be made to the justice, who after deducting all reasonable charges and expenses, shall pay over the surplus, if any, to the county treasurer. Such surplus may be paid over to the owner of the strays if he appears within one year and not thereafter. There are no general laws to prevent cattle running at large in the highways of this Commonwealth; but the owners of cattle are always liable for any damage done by them when trespassing on other peoples property. We believe the common law would award such damage even where fences are not according to statutes; but it would cost much more to test such suits than for a farmer to keep good fences. Keep good fences and then the law is sure to be on your side.

An important question arises as to what constitutes a lawful fence, in connection with the subject of strays. The general laws on subject were passed while Pennsylvania was yet a province and we know of no laws on that point since. It provides that a fence must be at least five feet high, of sufficient rail or logs and close at the bottom. The same law imposes a penalty for injuring cattle when driving them out of an enclosure, which has not a lawful fence. The laws relating to fence viewers are, we presume, generally known.

HARD WORK AND HARD DRIVING.—Horses were designed as beasts of burden to relieve mankind from fatiguing drudgery. It dose not hurt them to work hard, if they are treated kindly. It is not hard drawing the ponderous loads that wear out horses and make them poor, baulky and worthless; but it is hard driving, the worry by rough inhuman drivers, that use up more horse flesh, fat and muscle than all the labor a team performs.

Consider the ponderous loads that many teams are required to cart every day, and several times a day, and yet they appear to grow fatter and stronger every year. They are treated kindly. On the other hand, other horses, that do not perform half the labor soon grow poor, and give out, and the next we hear of them is, they die with the harness on. Hard work does not kill them; but the worrying, fretting and abuse did the work.

TOWN LOTS FOR SALE, HAVING THE FOLLOWING MERITS.—
They are near the Court House.
They are not on a hill.
They are located on one of the principal streets of the Borough.
They are very low in price.
They will be sold on a reasonable credit.
Half the marketing entering Bellefonte passes the front of these lots, and may be had, which is an important consideration; for, who has not travelled the rounds of the stores in search of butter, &c., and returned home disappointed?
For a residence and boarding house for any who do not wish to loose time going to or returning from meals, these lots are very desirable. Apply to

SEWING MACHINE.

AMERICAN BUTTON-HOLE
OVER-SEAMING AND SEWING MACHINE COMBINED.
MEDAL AWARDED AT THE PARIS EXPOSITION, 1867.

In directing attention to the celebrated COMBINATION BUTTON HOLE AND SEWING MACHINE, we feel fully warranted in claiming for it unquestionable superiority over all others as a Family Machine.—The Simplicity, Ease and Certainty with which it operates, as well as the uniform excellence of its work, certainly place it far in advance of any other similar invention of the age.
It is also the cheapest, intrinsically, as well as the best, since it is really two machines combined in one, (by a simple and beautiful mechanical arrangement never before accomplished by human ingenuity,) making either the Lock Stitch or Button Hole Stitch, as occasion may require. It is, at the same time, simple in construction, comparatively noiseless, easily understood, and, in a word, it combines with those advantages exclusively its own the most desirable qualities of all others, for it not only does every variety of sewing in a SUPERIOR MANNER, but in addition OVERSEAMS splendidly and makes beautiful BUTTON and EYELET HOLES in all fabrics. This is far beyond the capacity of any other machine.
The SPLENDID MECHANISM of this Machine, and the superior skill workmanship and materials employed in its construction, are a guarantee of accuracy, strength and durability, and enable the company and its agents to Warrant Every Machine they sell to give entire satisfaction.

INSTRUCTIONS GIVEN ON THE MACHINE GRATUITOUSLY.
Lessons may be taken if desired with a view to test the Machine, or to become better acquainted with it before deciding to purchase. Samples of work will be furnished upon application at

MILESBURG PLANING MILL.
MACKEY & COMPANY,
having leased the above named Planing Mill, and added largely to its facilities for turning out first class work, are now prepared to furnish
FLOORING, DOORS,
BLINDS, SASH,
SHUTTRS, BRACKETS,
SCROLL WORK,
and manufactured lumber of
EVERY DESCRIPTION
at the
LOWEST CASH PRICES.
All manner of work such as Scroll Sawing, Moulding, Brackets, &c., &c made after any desired pattern,
ON THE SHORTEST NOTICE.
This company is composed of practicable mechanics, and Samuel Adams, one of the Co., has been foreman of the Bellefonte Planing Mill since its commencement.
Connected with the mill, and in operation at all times, is one of the latest improved
COKE DRYING KILNS, which leaves the lumber in a perfectly healthy state, assists in preserving it, and in fact adds to its lasting qualities, while other methods of drying deteriorate, and renders it more liable
TO DECAY AND WASTE.
Lumber dried in a Coke kiln, is dried perfectly, and when worked and put up, will not SHRIVEL AND SHRINK,
thus giving buildings the appearance of having been erected out of Green Material
We know that our facilities give us every advantage over other
PLANING MILLS IN THIS SECTION and we feel perfectly free in saying, that all our WORK WILL BE GUARANTEED, to be of
A SUPERIOR QUALITY.
We will furnish anything in our line from a door panel, to a WHOLE HOUSE,
and at such prices, as cannot but prove to be an inducement to THOSE DESIRING TO BUILD.
All orders promptly filled and a fair share of public patronage, respectfully solicited.

THE WONDER OF THE AGE,
THE FARMERS PRIDE,
THE STUMP & GRUBBING MACHINE.
It will do more work in one day than Ten Men with grubbing hoes can possibly do, and leaves no roots or stumps to sprout up in the spring. After grubbing with this Machine the farmer can cut his grain or grass the first season with the Reaper or Mower.
It does its work effectually. Any person or persons desirous of making money, will do well to
